NATHAN AT WORK AND PLAY

Nathan, 17, made a trip early this year to Savannah with his school to represent the region (GISA – Georgia Independent School Association) in an essay writing competition. He also played on the school golf team in the spring. He participated in a World Changers mission trip again this summer. This semester, Nathan is on Mount Pisgah's debate team. And in October he finally got his braces off; and his teeth look great! He has continued his love of music – he's still playing the guitar mostly, but also continuing with the drums and piano from time to time. As a junior, he is contemplating what college to attend.

THE ADAMS' WISH YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS

Another year has flown by at the Adams household. Bobby, Kim, and Nathan took a Georgia summer vacation (Shannon had her own trip, see her article). They spent a couple of days whitewater rafting on the Chatooga River, which is the same beautiful river featured in the movie, Deliverance. They then went across the state, to Tybee Island, for some quality beach time, and even a deep-sea fishing trip. What a blast everyone had!

Our "normal" lives are a lot like last year. Bobby is still at Cingular; we are still involved at church. Kim is still doing some volunteer work at Nathan's school – and she had also been doing some substitute teaching there.

MORE ADVENTURES FOR SHANNON

In May, Shannon got a new dog, Jack. He half German Shepherd and half Red Heeler, and very friendly and well-behaved. Shannon had quite a summer, including a 3 ½ week trip for school in Europe. She visited Paris, Antwerp, Glasgow, and London, and had quite a great time. For the record, Shannon let her parents know that the education value was well worth the monetary investment they made. Bobby and Kim seriously doubt that – but are glad that she got a chance to go and enjoyed it so much. Shannon spent the rest of the summer at school in Waco, taking courses, so she is well on her way toward completing her junior year.
